

SULTAN'S FAIR

between
old
and
new

highlights the work of traditional craftspeople, mostly those living and working in the City of the Dead, contemporary Egyptian and international artists, and not-for-profit organisations across historic Cairo who promote art and culture. It is one of events organised by ARCHiNOS Architecture in the Sultan Qaitbey area in the City of the Dead to bring together different communities in promotion of tangible and intangible heritage, introducing diverse art and cultures and providing access to culture and art for the unprivileged community, following the project's motto:

ART COMES TO THE PEOPLE
